Client and lawyer feedback consistently scores James as being "good" or "excellent" in all of the following categories.

- The information and explanations provided by your Mediator
- Understanding the cases of both parties
- Being able to control the mediation
- Treating each party equally
- Gaining trust from both parties
- The professionalism of the mediator
- The mediator's commitment to achieving a settlement

Mediation fees vary depending on the location of the mediation and the number of parties, but are typically £1250-£1400 per party plus VAT. The use of a suite of mediation rooms at our Peterborough office (adjacent to Peterborough Railway Station car park) is included within the mediation fee if the parties seek a neutral location to hold the mediation.
